EASTERN DATES TO JULY 29.

BY THE CABLES.

PARIS, July 28.—The Journal Officiel contains correspondence from St. Petersburg in which it is said Russia does not sympathize with Prussia. Prussia wishes to make a Prussian lake of the Baltic and attack the Independence of Denmark, and that of half of Germany.

It having been reported here that several American officers desire to follow the French army in its campaigns against Prussia for the purpose of making observations for the use of the American government, petitions were lately filed with the government for the necessary permission. The request was declined, the highest military authority of the Empire saying that no foreign officer, however high his rank, will be permitted to follow the French army.

The Emperor left St. Cloud to-day by special train for the army, accompanied by Prince Napoleon.

The Gaulois publishes a report that a conditional alliance has been concluded between France and Italy. The new treaty stipulates that in case of certain events France is to pay to Italy sixty million francs and leave her free to make Rome the capital of the Kingdom.

Advices from Rome represent that the Pope accepts as inevitable the evacuation of Rome by the French troops.

MADRID, July 28.—Indignation at Grammont's aspersion of the Cortes is unabated and tends to avert the sympathies of many from France.

PARIS, July 28.—The French government has received official notification declaring the neutrality of Denmark.

LONDON, July 28.—The Belgian camp at Beverloo has been broken up and the troops distributed among the frontier fortresses.

The House of Lords was crowded to-night to hear the statement of the Government's position in the present war. Granville said the document was embarrassed by explosive material lying all around, with matches ready lighted, efforts to extinguish which, had been useless, though Lord Lyons had been able to hold back the declaration of war five days. In the presence of this war England has but one duty to perform, and that is to observe strict neutrality. Malmesbury and Russell approved the attitude and action of the Government. War was wholly needless and inexcusable. The Parliament would certainly sustain the Government in its policy of neutrality, and await an opportunity for interference.

Count Bismarck, in a dispatch to the North German Ambassador to England, confirms the authenticity of the recent treaty published in the London Times.

LONDON, July 28—Midnight.—Everything indicates that an important engagement must take place within three days. The Prussians are concentrating between Treves and Merzig, on the river Saar. They have 400,000 men, and rather too much cavalry to forage for. The French have about 300,000.

Great excitement is caused in the Danubian principalities by the rumor that the people are preparing to make use of the opportunity to obtain their independence.

NEW YORK, July 28.—A special to the Herald, from Berlin, dated July 26th, says a royal decree has been issued calling for volunteer marines to protect the Prussian coast. Premiums, of various grades, some of them as high as 5,000 thalers, are offered for the destruction of French vessels.

BERLIN, July 28.—The French employ American agents to buy arms, under the pretense that they are for the United States.

FRANKFORT, July 28.—U. S. securities are higher; closed at 79¼.

PARIS, July 28.—The Emperor arrived at 4 P. M. at Metz, where the Imperial headquarters are established. A proclamation to the army will be issued to-morrow.

Internal Revenue Statement.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—A comparative statement of the internal revenue receipts, shows that the aggregate for the first fifteen months of the present administration, is $66,500,857 greater than the last fifteen months preceding this administration. The amount collected for fifteen months prior to the first of June, was $278,522,344.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—For some time past the Western Union Telegraph Company have been aware that dispatches from the East were being stolen at some point on their line, and sharp watch being kept, the officers came to the conclusion that the theft was being committed at Sacramento during the night. Last night Edward Pierson, night operator at Sacramento, discovered F. S. Van Valkenberg, Manager of the Atlantic and Pacific opposition line, ensconced on the balcony, by the window, with paper-clip and pencil in hand, listening to the clicking of the instrument, ready to take down the dispatches. He threw the window open suddenly and fired a pistol into the air, whereupon Van Valkenburg attempted to jump from the balcony, but was caught before he could throw away his paper-clip and pencil. He was arrested, taken to the calaboose, and will be examined to-day. The American News Company's dispatches from the East are painfully meagre this morning.

The peach crop appears shorter than usual; fair Crawford's scarce; selling at $1 50 per basket.

Certain members of the Board of Supervisors are very anxiously hanging around the City Hall to-day, it being understood that the Grand Jury is examining charges against them.

The weather is cool and foggy.

Politics in Maine.

The election in Maine will take place the second week in September. Governor, Congressmen and a Legislature will be chosen, and the election of a United States Senator depends upon the result. A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser writes from Portland July 19:

The only political conventions that have been held, where some one has been put in nomination and a platform of principles laid down, have been those of the Republican party, and if there is any fighting to be done it must be among ourselves. The disgraceful failing of the Democracy at their State Convention in Portland, showed that the party had tired of defeat, and desired a reorganization that would ensure success. Bion Bradbury had made the attempt several times to "interview" Governor Chamberlain. With persuasive voice he had offered him the choicest fruit from the Democratic tree, with the assurance that if he would only eat thereof he would not "surely die." But General Chamberlain was not prepared for an ignominious surrender of political principles and associates. From the first there has not been the slightest reason for supposing that he would consent to be a candidate for Governor. The report that a soldiers' State convention is to meet in this city for the purpose of bringing forward his name is mere sensation and twaddle. The hope to draw the Republicans from the support of Mr. Perham is extremely shallow, [illegible] the Democracy could rally around a man as popular as Governor Chamberlain. This year the Republican party is united, the third party is to become absorbed in its ranks, [illegible] and General Hersey, and all his personal supporters in the convention where he was defeated, heartily support the nominee. In the light of present facts there seems to remain but one thing for the Democracy to do, to wit: to nominate General Franklin Smith of Waterville, the ancient and honorable [illegible] here who would not suffer his name to be withdrawn from the Portland [illegible] to maintain their time-honored organization and submit to their annual whipping. This is likely to be the upshot of the whole business.

In response to [illegible] party for [illegible] of Bemis replies: "Nothing, [illegible] with a pinch of snuff, there was a time when Sunday never passed without five or six fights, but now you never hear of a muss once in a month."

French Jealousy of Prussia—Remarkable Speech of M. Thiers.

During the debate relative to the army, on the 30th ult., in the French Corps Legislatif, M. Thiers spoke as follows:

I beg pardon to the Chamber for intervening in a discussion in which the Minister of War has given ample information. I do not come, therefore, to enlighten the subject, but to fill the duty of a good citizen. I cannot be impeached by any one, for I have always defended the armies that I deemed necessary, and recently I did not fear to vote with a minority of 35 against a majority of 200. I know how to persist in my own opinions, but I say to my honorable friends of the opposition that they deceive themselves in the matter. Certainly the good faith of no one is questioned, but I pray you not to go astray on this grave matter. You have done me the honor of recalling that I was applauded some years ago, but I was applauded without being heard. [Laughter.] We must submit to the consequences of the faults we have committed. I hear it constantly asked, "Why not explain the policy of Europe?" But that policy is evident. We wish for peace because war to-day would be universal, entailing frightful calamities. Guilty in the eyes of civilization, of humanity, of history and of France would be those who would have the impudence to occasion it. But why is peace maintained? It is because you are strong. [Tres bien! tres bien!]

I have always attentively observed the state of Europe, especially since the unfortunate events of 1866. Well, when the Luxembourg question was raised, France was not in position to make herself respected. I did not always approve the measures taken by Marshal Niel, but it must be acknowledged that he rendered great services to the country, and that peace is due to his armaments. If you desire peace remain strong. It is asked why not give the example of disarmament. Here it is necessary to reflect. Reflection is the base of the question. I hear it said unceasingly, "we are on a war footing." That is wrong: we are not on a war footing, and if a Minister of War should speak of disarmament, I would say to him that he is imprudent and ignorant. But we are told disarm and it will be imitated. Well, when every one in Europe—I should say nearly every one desires peace, why have we no invitation to disarm? Why has that word, pronounced three years ago, found no echo? Do you believe it is on account of ill will or idle malice? Not at all.

It is believed that Prussia is on an extraordinary war footing. It is no more true of her than of ourselves. But no account is taken of the past. Formerly Prussia had 19,000,000 men at her disposal. How many has she to-day, with the treaties of alliance, offensive and defensive, binding on the Southern States? She has over 40,000,000.

Do not deny the changes caused by the events of 1866. In place of a federal Germany, organized for peace, all-powerful for defense, powerless for attack, you have a formidable military power. At its head is a superior man, who is peaceable to-day, and not disposed to disturb the world, but he has 40,000,000 men at his control. In face of this force we must have a new military organization. There is patriotism on all the benches of the Chamber, but patriotism is not sufficient. To be deceived in this matter would be worse than to want patriotism. [Tres bien! tres bien!] I was in Austria when the war budget was under discussion. Why did Austria, with a courageous and devoted army, meet with great reverses? It was because imprudent reductions in the budget rendered it impossible for the Government to maintain the military force of the country on an ample basis, and prepare it for emergencies. [It is true.] We must not commit similar blunders. To the faults the Government has made in the past, let us not add the faults of the Opposition. We will do so if we disguise the necessities of the times, if we think that it depends on us to cause other powers to disarm. For Prussia to disarm, she should not only reduce her own army, but break up the Northern Confederation, and the treaty with Wurtemburg, Bavaria and other States. The Confederation and the treaties form her armament, and she will not despoil herself of them. To speak of disarmament is to cherish a chimera. [Movement.] All the world is on a peace footing, but Prussia is doubly so. I am for peace but to have peace we must remain strong. If you examine closely you will find that with the nine contingents of the present law you can scarcely make a sufficient army. I would prefer the law of 1831, with seven contingents of 100,000 men, and I hope it will be revived; but under the present circumstances a contingent of 90,000 is scarcely sufficient. We must not cherish illusions; it is on that account I adjure every one to think of the gravity of the situation, and I beg you to do your duty as sound patriots and Frenchmen. [Applause.]

In reply to the comments of this speech, Mr. Thiers said:

You speak of civilization, philosophy, and the mutual interests of trade uniting peoples to-day! But do you think that mankind has changed in three years? Did philosophy prevent the Prussian army from marching on Vienna? And when the occasion presented itself to change the face of Europe, did it prevent Prussia from using it? I do homage to the boldness and true courage of M. De Bismarck, who did not fear, when the moment came, to fall on Austria. He is to-day peaceable, but why? It was asked awhile ago, who owned South Germany. I answer the wisest. Behold why M. De Bismarck is pacific! If he showed the same ambition as three years ago he would have all the south against him. Since it has become notorious that France no longer covets the Rhine the natural distinctions which divide Germany are reawakening; her patriotism feels assured. Let us then be pacific in order not to give the South to Prussia. In the course of the debate, M. Thiers added:

Nothing is more dreadful than to call a nation to arms. Torrents of blood are thus shed, because no wars are more destructive and bloody than conflicts between experienced armies. Why did the American war cost so much blood and money? Why did it continue five years? Because it was a war of population against population. It would not have continued one year if it was between armies regularly constituted.

M. Garnier-Pages—And Sadowa?

M. Thiers—Why did Sadowa give the world an unequaled spectacle? All was ready at Berlin, it was not so at Vienna. It is thus that empires perish. In conclusion he said: Do not forget Sadowa. Let us not be refused an army, which we might have done without before, but which we cannot do without after Sadowa. [Warm approbation on several benches.]

Policeman, spare that dog, touch not a single hair. In words so many it begs from out his muddy lair. O, when he was a pup, so frisky and so plump, he lapped his milk from a cup, when hungry, at a pump. And then his funny tricks so fondly in their place, so full of cunning licks upon your hands and face. You will not let him live? O, do not kill him [illegible] the wag of his narrative, and prays for life not back. [illegible] get the muzzle now and put upon his mouth, and stop that bow, wow, wow, and tendency to drouth. He is your [illegible] companion of their joy. You [illegible] and thus their hopes destroy. No, policeman, spare the pup, touch not a single hair. O, put your pistol up, and go away from here!

"Corry" says that if they carry the war into Turkey that it will be a "fowl proceeding," and that if Napoleon isn't careful when he crosses the Rhine he may "slip up," in it.

LATE CABLE DISPATCHES.

RELATIONS OF FRANCE WITH OTHER NATIONS.

PARIS, July 19.—The Journal Officiel to-day has a significant article on the attitude of Holland, saying: "But no one can ignore the ambitious design of Prussia against the independence of Holland. Bismarck wished to make that generous and illustrious little nation submit as the Danish Duchies were forced to submit. He wished to render Holland a naval State of the North German Confederation, and under the pretext of establishing closer commercial relations, tried to please Prussian custom officers at Amsterdam. The patriotic emotion aroused in the Netherlands at the time of the Luxembourg affair will also be remembered, nor will it be forgotten that without the firm stand taken by France then Prussian policy would have led to results fatal to the independence and autonomy of the Netherlands. The Cabinet of the Hague is on its guard, and will not fail to maintain the real interests of the country." The same paper has the following: "We learn from Neufchatel that the military measures of the Federal [Swiss] Government are not directed against France, but are inspired by a friendly neutrality. Switzerland knows she has nothing to fear from France, her natural ally and firm friend. The measures taken by Switzerland to secure the respect of Prussia for her neutrality are in our favor, as, by her geographical position, she protects an important portion of our frontier." The friendly feeling of the Spanish people toward France is also pointed out by this journal, which says: "We hear from Spain that all notice how carefully in the present conflict our Government and Chambers have avoided any act or expression of unfriendliness toward that power. This results from the feelings of sympathy between the two countries."

ADDRESS OF THE NORTH GERMAN PARLIAMENT TO THE KING OF PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, July 21.—The North German Parliament has voted an address to the throne, in which they declare that the representatives of the people had no hesitancy in trusting the King, in the evening of his life, with the conduct of a struggle which was joined when he was in his youth. It will terminate forever the attempt of France to shatter the German nation, which now, on the field of battle, will attain that unity which it never enjoyed before. Europe is congratulated that the Continent at last is to be delivered from Bonapartist lust for power, and that an end is to be put to the ambition which has ever directed Napoleonic aspirations, and a healthy check will now be given to the French nation.

The address was voted amid the wildest enthusiasm. Prince Leopold, Minister Bancroft and other persons were present. The entire Chamber arose and remained standing till the reading was ended.

RECEPTION OF THE FRENCH CHAMBERS BY THE EMPEROR—SPEECH OF NAPOLEON.

PARIS, July 22—Midnight.—At the reception of the Chambers by Napoleon this evening, the President, addressing the Emperor, said: "The one voice of the people of both hemispheres throws the responsibility of the war upon Prussia, whose late success in that field has intoxicated her ruler and her people. Prussia has outraged the patience of France, imagining that she might wound her honor with impunity."

The Emperor, in replying, said: "The real author of the war is not the Power declaring war, but the Power rendering a declaration of war necessary. The irresistible impulses of all France dictated the war with Prussia, and faith in the success of France is unlimited beyond conception, knowing that she is right and that God will be with her in the struggle."

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT PROPOSING AN EXTENSION OF THE SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Just before the final adjournment of Congress, on the 15th inst., the following message was received from the President, which, however, was not formally acted upon:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

The latest intelligence from Europe indicates the imminence of war between France and North Germany. In view of this, a sound policy indicates the importance of some legislation tending to enlarge the commercial marine of this country. The vessels of this country at the present time are insufficient to meet the increase which the existence of war in Europe will enforce upon the commerce of the United States, and I submit to the consideration of Congress that the interests of the country will be advanced by the opportunity offered to our citizens to purchase vessels of foreign construction for the foreign trade of the country. An act to this effect may be limited in its direction to meet the immediate exigency. The foreign mail service of the United States, in a large degree, is dependent upon the Bremen and Hamburg lines of steamers. The Post-office Department has entered into contracts in writing with the two companies above named, and with the Williams & Guion line, respectively, for a regular and continuous service of two years. The only arrangement that could be made with the Inman and Cunard lines is temporary, and may be broken off at any time. The North German lines are first class in point of speed and equipment, their steamers usually making the trip across the Atlantic in from 24 to 36 hours in advance of those of the Williams & Guion line. Should the North German steamers be blockaded or impeded by France, our postal interests with the foreign nations will be greatly embarrassed, unless Congress interpose for its relief. I suggest to Congress the propriety of further postponing the time for adjournment, with the view to considering the questions herein communicated.

U. S. GRANT.

An Adams paper says: "The coming woman came yesterday. She arrived at the railroad station. She came alone all the way from Boston. She met a stranger as she alighted from the train whom she had never seen before. The stranger was fascinated by her. They were at once married by a justice of the peace and set out for home in an ox-cart. Heaven bless them."

The Daily Oregonian

[illegible] DAY MORNING [illegible] JULY [illegible]

Misrepresentations Corrected

[illegible] amendment and that that article out [illegible] the Constitution [illegible] that we should correct a misrepresentation of ourselves by the Dallas Republican. [illegible] to justify [illegible] its present [illegible] course that paper Mr Sullivan [illegible] its conductors and writing in the first person speaks as follows

> Two years ago I made a canvass in this District in which I defended the reconstruction acts against the attacks of the Democracy upon the very grounds urged by the opposition that the Southern States ought to be represented because I claimed then as now that they never were out of the Union and that so far as the act was concerned based on negro suffrage it was desired by Union men in the South and was a punishment to traitors I said amen to it but as for the principle involved in it of extending the elective franchise to opposite races, I said then it was wrong, and I say it now and as to the excuse offered for it by Senator Williams, that it must needs be done in order simply to create a loyal element in the rebellious States I then said it was too silly to talk about, because one half or more of the negroes would vote with the rebels in the South, and I say so still And I then said publicly that I feared it was but the first great step to universal negro suffrage but Williams and the editor of the OREGONIAN said no there is no danger But my prediction has proved true and now the OREGONIAN reads everybody out of the party who does not like itself take back what they have heretofore conscientiously declared to be right, and without excuse change their principles and follow the lead of the paper whose colors are so beautifully changeable

We do not know what Senator Williams may have said at different times on this subject That is no affair of ours But we know what we have said upon it and the files of this paper remain as a record thereof Probably the Republican did not know that the allegations it was making as to the course of the editor of the OREGONIAN on this subject were without foundation but such is the fact From the time the reconstruction acts were passed, and indeed from a time anterior to that, it was apparent to nearly all observant persons of both parties that colored men both North and South, would almost certainly be admitted to the elective franchise The first direct step was the enfranchisement of the blacks in the District of Columbia This took place in January, 1867 It was approved by the OREGONIAN, on the ground that as the tendency was plainly toward the general enfranchisement of the colored race there could be no better place for making a commencement, or trying the experiment, than at the National Capital Turning to our files we reproduce from an editorial in the OREGONIAN of June 20 1868 the following on the subject of suffrage

> We do not believe that color should be any disqualification to the exercise of the elective franchise. Through these columns we have frequently said as much They who founded this Republic were of this very opinion, and whoever condemns this doctrine must condemn them. If there are to be any disqualifications, they should rest on something else than color There is no sense or justice in excluding an intelligent black man from the ballot-box and allowing an ignorant white man to vote Nor can such a doctrine long stand It is certain to go down and be trampled upon in the progress of liberal and just ideas

These were the opinions of the OREGONIAN two years ago So far were we then from occupying the position which the Republican says we occupied That paper cannot justify its present course by such a groundless attack on the OREGONIAN We never were absurd enough to support the reconstruction laws and negro suffrage for the South and then oppose negro suffrage for the North We have been quite willing to leave that course open as an expedient or refuge for gentlemen of "conservative" views, "so called Therefore long before the fifteenth amendment was proposed or talked of we advocated the bestowal of the suffrage on the colored men of the Northern States and have never occupied the variant and inconsistent positions stated by the Republican

This matter in itself would not be worth the space we give it But connected with it is a graver matter The Republicans in Polk county, if they are to build up their party and increase it in strength and confidence must be in harmony with the Republican party of the country No party can disown its measures and principles, and succeed Every attempt to pursue so timid and cowardly a course will weaken a party and make capital for its opponents The people will judge a party by its measures and if they think those measures dangerous and wrong, they will go over to the other party in order to right them The sure way to defeat is to give your enemy the advantage of an admission on your part that you are in the wrong

John Randolph used to say that England had been for centuries the game cock of Europe But that, says an Eastern journal, was in the days of Godolphin Walpole Pitt and Canning England has latterly abdicated this position Downing street is no longer the chief dung-hill in the European barn yard Matthew Arnold has shown in his trenchant style how the English devotion to trade and money making so absorbing and all controlling has completely robbed their country of influence in the politics of Europe And accordingly in the present complication we hear nothing of her part She is a silent factor in the problem and is anxious to let the world know that she counts for nothing

We hear that Col Kelly has been spending the week in Yamhill county No doubt he has been trying to get a settlement out of Bill Newby It will be remembered that Newby was the Democratic [illegible] of Yamhill in the late canvass He it was upon whom the Democrats relied to carry the county He it was who kept the [illegible] and who about once a fortnight came down here and started Col Kelly out on the street to get money for him It was a heavy drain on poor Kelly and he lost the county at last And worst of all the borrowed money is still to be paid while the chances of Kelly's being elected Senator are [illegible]

When the section relating to the bonded transportation of imported merchandise to different points within the United States were first inserted in the bill Portland Oregon was not named as one of the final ports of destination to which merchandise could be transported in bond But afterwards at the solicitation of Senator [illegible] Portland was inserted This will give our importers the advantage of having their goods forwarded without detention a month in San Francisco

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 30, 1870.

CITY.

A Hunt for the Outlaws.—It has become an established fact—out of the mouths of several witnesses—that there are three armed men hanging around in the woods north and west of the city, and that at various times they have committed outrages upon citizens. It has been reported that these men have visited the city a number of times at night, and many of the acts of violence and robbery perpetrated in our streets have been attributed to them. There seems, too, to be a general belief that one of these men is the now notorious Shultz or Bardman. However this may be, the men have been seen there, and their presence has excited a good deal of uneasiness and some alarm among the people in the northern section of the city, and indeed throughout all the part of the city. Whoever the men are, it is certain that they have sent one or more defiant messages to the officers, daring the latter to come out and take them if they can. Yesterday morning Marshal [illegible] with a posse went out to the neighborhood in a wagon, all but the driver being concealed, in hopes to find these worthies somewhere [illegible], as they had been seen several mornings [illegible] the road. Nothing, however, was seen of them. Arriving at the slaughter house, they proceeded to search the surrounding country. They found where the trio had visited an Indian camp and obtained provisions, and the other places that had been disturbed by them, but no sign of their present camp was found. The only discovery of any importance was a man sleeping in the hay in a barn—a miserable wretch who represented that he had been sick, had no money and no place to sleep, and that he occasionally went out to this place to sleep in the hay. This man states that he has seen Trainor and two other men in that neighborhood, but knows nothing of Shultz. The Marshal brought him in and took him before Recorder Anderson as a vagrant. The Recorder, after an examination discharged him.

Religious Intelligence.—We are indebted to the Advocate for the following religious items:

Rev. J. H. Wilbur is announced to preach at the Taylor street M. E. Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

The action of our last conference makes it necessary for the presiding elders to meet on Wednesday evening, August 24th, in the city of Vancouver, W. T.

The annual meeting of the Publishing Committee of the Pacific Christian Advocate, will be held at the office in Portland, on Monday evening, August 8th.

Rev. E. H. Crosier, and family, of the Central [illegible] Conference, arrived in Portland by the [illegible] Bro. Crosier comes to our shores [illegible] health.

Rev. Clark Smith has been re-elected by the Trustees to the Principalship of the Vancouver Academy. The Willamette University, at its recent [illegible], conferred upon Bro. Smith the honorary degree of A. M.

Rev. B. Rutledge, agent of the Freedmen's Aid Society, has spent about three weeks in Oregon, and Washington Territory. He has presented the claims of the Society to the several congregations which he addressed, and received contributions as follows: Rev. J. H. Wilbur, $30; East Portland M. E. Church, $42 51; Salem M. E. Church, $[illegible] 14; Lutheran Church, Portland, [illegible] Chapel, $42; Baptist Church, [illegible]; Oregon City M. E. Church, $17 50; [illegible], W. T., $15, total, $307 56.

Upper Columbia.—The river is receding four inches per day at Umatilla, one foot at the Dalles and [illegible] inches at Wallula...... Grain and hay are excellent in the valleys. 60,000 acres of wheat, oats and barley in Walla Walla county. [illegible] have shipped twenty threshing machines up the river this season. They calculate that the N. P. R. R. will turn southward from the Yakima valley, pass near Walla Walla, keeping [illegible] east of the river; thence down [illegible] through Dalles City, and on that side the Cascades and cross over .... Fares and all expenses are very much reduced on the river boats, and the travel, according to the list of arrivals at the Umatilla House, at the Dalles, has been greater than during the same months last year.........Cedar Creek, I. T., [illegible] is overcrowded. The creek is about the size of King's Creek on the east of this city, and the mines are in the [illegible]—, extending about twelve miles in length, making room for about 500, instead of the 100 men who are there. In fact most of the [illegible] are things of the past—Kootenai, [illegible] ....Many have taken stock in [illegible] east of the mountains, which are doing well.

The Copyright Law.—Dr. R. Wilcox, clerk of the U. S. District Court for the District of Oregon, has placed in our possession, a circular letter from the Librarian of Congress concerning copyright matters and a copy of the late law regarding copyrights, approved July 8th, 1870. The provision of the law which is most important to authors and designers, is contained in Section [illegible] which we copy the following: "and be it enacted, That all records and other things relating to copyrights, and required by law to be preserved, shall be under the control of the Librarian of Congress and kept and preserved in the Library of Congress; and the Librarian of Congress shall have the immediate care and supervision thereof and, under the supervision of the Joint Committee of Congress on the Library, shall perform all acts and duties required by law touching copyrights." All certificates of copyright are hereafter to be issued by the Librarian of Congress and all applications for copyright must be addressed directly to that officer. Applicants by calling upon the Clerk of the U. S. District Court will be furnished with copies of the new law, by which alone they will be guided, as the former copyright laws are repealed.

Building in Portland.—This city has now attained such dimensions as that the building of a new edifice does not attract that attention that it did two or three years ago, nor is it so easy as it was to trace all the new buildings and improvements in progress. A well known workman informed us yesterday, however, that his machine shops were never more busy than now in turning out the shop work for new buildings, and that there never was a time in midsummer, in Portland, when there was more building going on. This was not a little surprising, inasmuch as such a fact had not been apparent to anyone making merely casual observations. The real growth of the city is hardly appreciated by the resident residents; but one of the first remarks made by those who have not visited us for a year or more, is in relation to our surprising growth.

Catholic Items.—The Sentinel furnishes the following:

A Mass will be said in the Cathedral at six o'clock to-morrow morning.

We are informed that the collections taken up in the Arch diocese, in aid of the Sovereign Pontiff, have been liberal, and the clergy express much gratification thereat.

The Rev. F. X. Weninger, who will soon leave us, will preach to-morrow morning at High Mass and at Vespers in the evening. The subject will be an interesting one to both Catholics and Protestants, namely: "Is the Catholic Church the only saving Church?" This is a matter of which all of our dissenting brethren and even many Catholics have a wrong conception, and knowing this, Father Weninger has concluded to thoroughly explain this doctrine to the people of Portland. Everybody is invited.

Benefit to Dick Clinton.—Mr Richard Clinton, a very clever young gentleman, who has been for some time connected with the Bates' Dramatic Company, has been tendered a complimentary benefit at Oro Fino Theater, to take place next Tuesday evening. The "Eaton Boy," for the first time, and the "Spectre Bridegroom," with a long interlude, consisting of songs and dances, by the company and a number of volunteers, will constitute the bill for the evening. Dick deserves a good house and we hope he will have it. The Finley Sisters, Messrs. Vinson, Melville, Norton and a host of volunteers will appear on the occasion, with the beneficiary.

A Further Reward.—Sheriff Bills offers $750 reward additional, for the arrest and delivery of Shultz. The county has already offered $250, so that the aggregate reward now offered is $1,000. This is as it should be. If Shultz is still around he ought to be taken, and if not the Shultz bugbear should be exploded, so that the crowd of villains who infest the city can no longer commit crimes and lay them to his charge. A thousand dollar reward is worth going for, and we predict that it will stimulate such a search as will clear the account of Shultz.

Lively Trade.—Dealers in pistols and other convenient firearms have been doing a lively trade since the opening of the "reign of terror" in Portland. The people are getting so well "heeled" that burglary and footpadding business is becoming extremely dangerous. 'Tis well.

Progress of the Railroad.—The Salem Statesman, of Thursday, says: "Mr. Henry Thielsen, engineer of the O. & C. railroad, was in town last evening, and from him we learn that the locomotive will be across the Molalla bridge by to-morrow (Friday) noon. The bridge was nearly finished when he left, and the piling, trestling and grading will soon be completed to the open prairie this side. We see by the Bulletin that a vessel loaded with iron is on the way up from San Francisco. The arrival of this iron will give means to continue the track to French Prairie. The grading progresses rapidly, and the advance of graders will reach Lake Labish to-day. A force will be at work south of Salem early next week."

Lecture on Physiognomy.—Dr. J. Simms, one of the oldest lecturers of the United States, now in the field, proposes to deliver a free lecture Monday evening, at Philharmonic Hall, on the interesting subject, if not science, of Physiognomy. For the purpose of illustration and to interest his audience, he will have the walls profusely hung with paintings—portraits of distinguished or notorious men, by the best artists of America. We dare say the lecture will be an interesting one. Everybody invited.

Our Daily Record of Burglaries, etc.—An attempt was made about half past ten o'clock Thursday evening, by two men, to burglarise the residence of Mr. C. E. Illsley. The latter discovered them and gave them the benefit of a shot, intended to hit, but as they ran away very nimbly, it is supposed that Mr. Illsley's aim was, unfortunately, not accurate. This is the only case of genuine burglarly, or of an attempt to commit one, reported, and the city may, therefore, be said to be comparatively quiet.

Plaza Concert.—Programme for Saturday evening:

1. Fireman's March.
2. Saratoga Waltzes.
3. Duetto, from Il Masnadieri.—Verdi.
4. March of All Nations.
5. The Drum Polka.—Jullien.
6. Polonaise—Le Chaperon Blanc's.
7. Song—The Little Brown Cot on the Hill.
8. Galop—Spirit of the Ball.

Shooting on the Streets.—During Thursday night the people of several sections of the city were disturbed by the discharge of firearms in the street. Except in two or three instances, the persons shooting were unknown. It is supposed they were persons intent simply on creating alarm and showing their contempt of the law and the officers. Let these fellows revel while they can, there will be soon an end of it.

Preparations Against Invasion.—We learn that the people of the towns down the river are arming themselves and taking other precautionary measures against the raids of robbers, each town believing that Shultz is in the immediate vicinity.

University Agents.—The Advocate says: "The Board of Trustees of the Willamette University, has elected James H. Wilbur as the agent of the University, for this coast, and Rev. A. F. Waller as agent for the Atlantic States."

Gone Down the River.—The ship Hermann Dieter was towed down the river yesterday by the tugboat Astoria, leaving here about half past twelve. The ship will remain in the Columbia till orders are received from Bremen.

Franklin.—This person is still in a critical condition, though it is thought the chances for his life are growing better. It is very uncertain, however, if he can ever entirely recover from the effects of that most unfortunate shot.

Regatta.—The first regular club race of the season will take place in front of the city this afternoon—prize, the Commodore's colors, which the winner will be entitled to wear the balance of the season.

Postoffice Notice.—After the 1st of August the postoffice delivery will be open only once on Sundays—from 5 till 6 P. M. It will, however, be open on Saturday evenings, one hour later than heretofore.

To be Still Used.—The old Congregational church building which has been removed to give place to a new edifice, will be still used for church and Sunday school purposes till the new building be ready.

Sales of Real Estate.—Deeds to real estate disposed of within the last two weeks, the considerations for which aggregate nearly $70,000, have been recorded in the County Clerk's office.

Fire in the Woods.—There is a big fire on the mountain side, west of the city, and this is not the only one going, if we may judge by the smoky state of the atmosphere.

Portland Academy.—The next term of this school will open September 5th, under the charge of Prof. Wm. H. Rogers, A. M., with a corps of teachers from the East.

Beth Israel School.—This school will open Monday morning, August 1st, under the charge of Miss H. R. Phillips.

A Robber Foiled by a Woman.

EXCITING ADVENTURE AT OREGON CITY.

[From the Oregon City Enterprise.]

On last Thursday our residence was visited by a rather disagreeable looking individual. Our house fronts on the river, and is in a rather retired place. About 11 o'clock in the morning Mrs. N. heard a man at the door, and she went to it, demanding of him, "What do you want?" to which he replied, "Money." "I have no money," she answered (and we positively believe she told the truth); to which he replied, "You have, and I am going to have it." As he made this threat Mrs. N. caught the door and turned the key, when he immediately went to the window, which was partly raised, and reached his hand in to the catch to open it, when Mrs. N. snatched a derringer and told him if he attempted to open the window she would shoot him. He stopped and gazed at her, and asked whether she would shoot, to which she replied that if he did not leave she would shoot anyhow. He then concluded that he had better leave. He walked around to the north side of the Catholic Church, and then almost immediately started to run to the bank of the river, where he got into a skiff and went down the stream. He is a very large man, had black whiskers (which from the description we believe to be a false set), and his eyes were red, as if sore. The night previous a couple of suspicious fellows were around the residence of Mr. Larocque. Mr. L. had occasion to go out about nine o'clock in the evening, when they took to their heels and ran off. The gang that appears to be operating in Portland extends apparently through the entire valley, and we would caution the people to be on the look out for them. The fellows who have been seen in the neighborhood of Col. Jenning's place are there for no good purpose, and steps ought to be taken to secure them. But the impudence of this fellow in coming to the residence of an editor and proprietor of a newspaper for money, probably has no parallel in history.

CURRENT NOTES.

Secretary Boutwell has made every preparation for the printing and issuing of the new bonds. The engraving of the various plates is already under way at the printing bureau, and it is thought that some of the bonds will be ready for the market by the 1st of September. This denomination will range from $50 to $10,000.

On the 17th inst. there was considerable rivalry between two Cincinnati papers, the Enquirer and Commercial, to distribute their Sunday issue, containing the war news, along the railroads. The Enquirer sent a special train at 6:30 to Dayton. The Commercial sent a special at 1:30 A. M. to Xenia, thence to Dayton, connecting with the down train, reaching that city at 7:15, thus distributing the Commercial on both roads in advance of the Enquirer.

Although the soldiers who will be called upon to take part in the coming war may be counted by the million, it does not follow that the loss of life will necessarily be as great as in former general European wars. It will be a war between disciplined soldiers, armed with the most destructive of modern war weapons. The battles will be more quickly decided, and with less destruction of life than were undisciplined mobs and inexperienced soldiers pitted against each other.

Our Citizens certainly deserve credit, for the energy they display to make the Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange a success and benefit to the State, as well as the immigrant coming to our State. Every citizen should give all the aid in their power to help the large number of strangers coming to our State, and not forget to inform them that Kohn & Fishel, No. 91 Front street, have the largest stock of clothing in Oregon; other goods are of superior quality and sold at extremely low prices.

Burning Islands in Greece.

DESTRUCTION OF SANTORIN—TWO YEARS' CONFLAGRATION OF AN ISLAND.

From the New York World.

The cable announces that on Friday the 1st inst., a terrible earthquake was experienced throughout the Kingdom of Greece, by which great damage was done [illegible]. The only details of this catastrophe yet given are that the town of Santorin was reduced to a heap of ruins, and that a neighboring island disappeared at the time of the shock. The town here [illegible] is evidently the capital town of the island of Santorin, the town of "Santorin" existing in Greece, and the neighboring island is probably either Therasia or Aspro-Nisi, both of which were formerly united with Santorin, and both of which were separated from it, as Pliny relates by a tremendous earthquake which occurred in the year 236 before Christ.

Santorin and the islands in its vicinity have long been known as the theatre of some of the most curious and interesting geological phenomena of the globe. For now nearly two years a large portion of the Island of Santorin itself, on which the town of that name stands, or rather stood, has been literally burning up with subterranean fires. The flames burst out along the sea line of the island in 1868, and have never since ceased to rage, extending their area steadily, and presenting one of the most striking and terrible spectacles in the world. Scientific expeditions have been sent from the mainland of Greece and from Austria to observe this awful phenomenon, but the dwellers in Santorin themselves like the residents of Torre del Greco near Vesuvius, had not suffered its fearful proximity to disturb their devotion to the culture of their vineyards, reckoned the best in the Grecian Archipelago, even as those of the Vesuvius slope are reputed the best of Southern Italy. Santorin, the southernmost of the famous group of islands known as the Cyclades, lies about half way between the Morea and the Island of Rhodes, and almost due north of the town of Candia, in Crete. It was known to the Phoenicians, by whom it was originally settled, as the "Beautiful," Callisté, and the "Round," Strongyle, the latter name indicating its form previous to the catastrophe, by which, as we have said, the islets of Therasia and of Aspro-Nisi were detached from it more than 2,000 years ago. Six centuries before Christ it had become powerful and populous enough to found the Libyan city of Cyrene. In the third century of our era it was baptised by the Christian name of St. Irene, of which its modern name of Santorin is a corruption. Its area is comparatively small, as it is only about forty-eight miles in circumference, but as its soil is absolutely and entirely volcanic, it is extremely fertile, and has long been famous for its wines. The vine, occupies indeed, the attention of its inhabitants so exclusively that all the necessaries of life have to be brought to them from the neighboring islands, upon which they are dependent even for their supply of water. In its population of some 13,000 souls are comprised some 600 or 700 Catholics, gathered around one school of Lazarist missionaries and another of Sisters of Charity, both of which schools are notable for the liberality with which they afford instruction to all the inhabitants without regard to their forms of faith.

The town destroyed in Santorin as we have said, is probably the capital of the island, Thera. This town lies in the center of the semicircle described by the island, and crowns the formidable cliffs which here rise suddenly and steeply from a depth of water so profound that no anchorage exists in front of the town. Over the whole surface of the island, among its green and glowing vineyards lie scattered the traces of numbers of other towns which in ancient days rose and flourished here. When we remember that no longer ago than last January, an earthquake shook to pieces and destroyed the island town of Santa Maura, in the Ionian Sea, quite on the other side of the Greek mainland, and that violent shocks have since then, at three different times, startled Southern and Central Italy from its propriety, one at least of the three having been attended with considerable loss of life and property, it is impossible to doubt that the eastern basin of the Mediterranean is just now the theatre of some as yet unmeasured but serious and most important subterranean revolution.

The Cincinnati Gazette thus speaks of political movements in the First Ohio District: "We are informed that Gen. P. W. Stradler has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election to Congress. This it is supposed, clears the track, on the Democratic side, for Hon. Milton Sayler. But a good deal is said about bringing out Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton. On the Republican side, Hon. Benj. Eggleston is a candidate, as is also J. W. Fitzgerald. Besides these, A. F. Perry, Wm. Hooper and Judge Hoadley are talked about. Judge Hoadley, we are told, would not accept, but we believe either Mr. Perry or Mr. Hooper would, if the nomination were voluntarily tendered."

A smart paper gives the following in its weekly gossip: "Sunday being a balmy day, the styles were brought out. The most richly dressed lady we saw was the wife of a man who has owed this office thirteen dollars for nearly thirteen years. He says he cannot raise the money, and we believe him."

A young lady with a very pretty foot but a rather large ankle, went into a San Francisco shoe-store to be measured. The admiring clerk, who is of Gallic extraction, complimented her in the following queer way: "Mad-am, you have one bootiful foot, but ze leg commence too immediately!"

"Spalding's Glue" mends everything.

A Young Wife's Request.—Wife—Charley I wish when you come up to-night you would step at your druggist's and get me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. Be sure and get the genuine.

Charley—What in the world, Mary, are you going to do with Plantation Bitters?

Wife—Everybody that I know is in ecstacy over Plantation Bitters, and I am going to try them myself. I am assured by several of my friends that the Bitters will cure my dyspepsia and at the same time do away with that terrible nausea which you know I am at times subject to. The doctor was in yesterday, and says that all that I want is a tonic, and that Plantation Bitters is the best that can be got.

Charley—It is just the thing, my dear, and it is strange that I had not thought of it before.

The Living Machine.

Injure the mainspring of a watch, and every portion of the works becomes disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to a chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs and controls to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried further, for as the weakness or other imperfections of the mainspring is indicated on the face of the time piece, so also is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or livid, the eyes are deficient in luster and intelligence, and there is a certain anxious expression in the whole countenance which tell as plainly as written words could do, that the great nourishing organ whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts [illegible] its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopoeia have been exhausted without, at least, doing more than [illegible] palatable, [illegible] stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia the liver is more or less affected, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act with singular distinctness, regulating and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend.

STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

NAPOLEON AND HIS CHESS[illegible] — [illegible] 350,000 MEN — [illegible] SOMMIERS [illegible]

[illegible] World, July 11

The population of France, according to the census of 1866, was, exclusive of 125,000 soldiers stationed outside of the empire, 38,067,094, of which 11,595,348 lived in towns and 26,471,746 in the rural districts. As regards nationality, 635,495 were resident foreigners, the remainder native Frenchmen. The difference of language among the natives of France has been the subject of another census. It is estimated that about 1,200,000 of the population (Alsace and Lorraine) speak German as their native tongue, 200,000 Flemish, 1,500,000 Walloon, 1,100,000 Breton. In their religious faiths the people are divided as follows: Catholics, 37,107,241; Protestants, 846,619; Jews, 89,040; other sects, 21,160; and in Algeria, Catholics, 211,195; Protestants, 5,002; Jews, 35,737; Mohammedans, 2,688,746; other sects, 17,232. The population of the French dominions, including the above enumeration, is 2,010,075, and the population of countries in Asia, Africa and Oceanica, under the protection of France, is 3,003,575, making a grand total of people living under the sway of the French Emperor of 44,535,317.

FINANCES.

The public debt in 1869 amounted to 12,927,718,073 francs, or upwards of $2,785,000,000. The revenue for 1869 appears to have been 1,755,843,203 francs, and the expenditures 1,751,241,931 francs.

ARMY.

The army, according to the new law of February 1, 1868, consists of the active army and the reserve, each numbering 400,000 men. A Garde Nationale Mobile, which was to number 550,000, was to co-operate for the defense of fortresses, coasts and frontiers. The National Guard has a military organization, and is placed under the Minister of War. It comprises 250 battalions, having each eight companies of 2,000 men, and 125 batteries of 200 men, together the active army, the reserve, and the National Guard, number 1,350,000 men.

The active army is as yet low. Of course it will be greatly increased when placed on a war footing:

Staff	1,773
Infantry	258,652
Cavalry	62,793
Artillery	36,882
Engineers	7,487
Gendarmes	24,5[illegible]
Troops of the Administration	14,066
Total	406,192

At the head of the French army are eight marshals of France, namely: Count Vaillant, Count Baraguay d'Hilliers, Count Randon, and de Bœuf, F. C. Canrobert, M. E. P. M. MacMahon (Duke of Magenta), C. F. Foley, F. A. Bazaine. The army is divided into seven army corps. The headquarters of the the army corps are as follows:

Headquarters.	Commanders.
1. Paris	Marshal Canrobert.
2. Lille	General De L'Admirault.
3. Nancy	Marshal Bazaine.
4. Lyons	Gen. Count de Palikao.
5. Tours	Marshal d'Hilliers.
6. Toulouse	General de Goyon.
7. Algiers	General MacMahon.

France has 119 fortresses, of which eight are of the first rank: Paris, Lyons, Strasbourg, Metz, Lille, Toulon, Brest and Cherbourg. The fortifications of Paris are stated to have cost $40,000,000, and up to 1868 there had been expended at Cherbourg $34,000,000.

NAVY.

The fleet, on the 1st of January, last year, was composed as follows:

Description.	Number.	Guns.
Screw steamers, iron-clad	55	1,032
Screw steamers, non-iron-clad	243	2,618
Wheel steamers	51	116
Sailing vessels	100	914
Total	439	4,680

Besides these, there were eight screw steamers, iron-clad, with 68 guns, and 23 non-ironclads, with 144 guns, building.

The French naval force consists of 72,446 men. There are two Admirals: C. Rigault de Genouilly and F. T. Trehouart; six active Vice-Admirals and thirty active Counter-Admirals.

BISMARCK'S BACKING—POPULATION OF PRUSSIA—ORGANIZATION OF THE ARMY—IN TIME OF PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR.

The total population of the kingdom of Prussia, according to the census of December 3d, 1867, was 24,043,296. This includes the population of the territories lately "absorbed" by Prussia. The total population of towns and cities was 7,456,350.

FINANCES.

The national debt of Prussia is 442,039,372 thalers, or over $200,000,000. The total revenues are about 170,000,000 thalers, and the total expenditures 160,000,000.

ARMY.

The German military organization is complete, and, according to a statement in the Prussian Military Gazette, "a million soldiers can at any moment be placed under arms by a single telegram from Berlin." The Prussian troops, the same authority adds, consist of 325 battalions of infantry, 11 regiments of artillery, with 1,146 guns, 268 squadrons of cavalry and 12 battalions of engineers, making in all 410,000 soldiers. To these should be added the Federal contingencies of Saxony, Brunswick, Mecklenburg-Strelitz and Hesse Darmstadt—in all 53,000 men. But this force of 463,000 only represents the standing army of North Germany. In case of emergency, Prussia can also command the services of the troops of Baden, Wurtemburg and Bavaria, and immediately order a reserve, consisting of an army of 143,000 men. An additional force of 200,000 men is at her disposal for the occupation of towns and garrisons. Every Prussian subject is enrolled as a soldier as soon as he has completed his twentieth year. He serves, unless exempted, three years in the regular army, four years in the reserve, and at the end of this term enters the Landwehr or militia for nine years. Leaving the Landwehr, he is finally enrolled in the Lanstrum until he is fifty years of age.

The Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy is the King. The Chief of the Staff is General de Moltke. The regular army is divided into eleven corps or divisions, with the following commanders:

Headquarters.	Commanders.
1—Koenigsberg	General de Manteuffel.
2—Stettin	Prince Frederick William.
3—Berlin	Prince Frederick Charles.
4—Magdebourg	General d'Alvensleben.
5—Posen	General de Steinmetz.
6—Breslau	General de Tumpling.
7—Munster	General de Zastrow.
8—Coblentz	General de Bittenfeld.
9—Schleswig	General de Manstein.
10—Hanover	General de Voigts Rhetz.
11—Cassel	General de Plonski.

The Commander of the Corps of the Guard is the Prince Augustus of Wurtemberg. There are twenty-nine fortresses in the kingdom, of which five are of the first rank.

NAVY.

Count Von Bismarck has been able to assert that the Prussian navy is now second to none in the Baltic Sea. Since 1860, vessel after vessel has been rapidly launched, until Prussia, which a few years ago was really contemptible on the sea, has now become a formidable naval power. According to the latest returns, the fleet of Prussia is composed as follows:

Description.	No. Vessels.	Guns.
Iron-clads	4	4[illegible]
Frigates and corvettes	9	202
Gunboats	2[illegible]	54
Yacht	1	2
Paddle corvettes	3	15
Sailing vessels	29	315
Total	99	6[illegible]

The steam fleet is being increased as rapidly as human efforts will admit of. The largest vessels in the navy are the King William, of 5,938 tons, and the Renown, of 7,500 tons. The former, which is considered the most formidable vessel afloat, was built in England for the Sultan of Turkey, but as he could not pay, it was snapped up by the Prussians. The armament consists of twenty-three guns of the heaviest calibre known, manufactured of the famous Krupp steel, at the works in Westphalia. The steam power is 1,150 horse and the crew 500 men. The Renown is less heavily armored, and has only 1,200 horse power, with an armament of four 11-inch guns, six 96-pounders, twelve 72-pounders, and twelve 24-pounders on the upper deck. The crew amounts to 1,000 men, exclusive of officers. This vessel was built in Kiel. On the stocks at the navy yard in Wilhelmshafen is the heavy iron clad frigate the Grosser Kur-

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Friday, July 29, 1870.

Gold is quoted to-day at New York, 12[illegible], an advance of ¼ since yesterday.

Legal-tenders, in this market are quotable at 85 buying, and 88 selling.

Loans at the banks are, on 30 days, 1 per cent; outside rates 1½@2 per cent per month.

Money is becoming steadily more plenty, remittances from the interior being more prompt and regular than heretofore at this season of the year. Monthly bills are collected with reasonable ease, and there seems to be no particular stress in money matters among any classes of regular business men. There is more confidence felt this week, than for some time, in legal tenders and Government securities. Those who anticipated a rise in gold to 130 or 140 have been disappointed, and there now seems to be no prospect that gold will get above 125 at the highest, and but for the European war, it would undoubtedly go down to 112 to 115.

The general business of the city for the week has been quite fair—above the average for the season of the year. In former years July has been a dull month, sales small, confined mostly to the city, and in consequence, freights light. This month is notably an exception. Forwarders and commission men inform us that they never had so large a business in July. Wholesale dealers in most lines represent their trade as unexpectedly good, considering the fact that the country is now in the very midst of harvest.

AGRICULTURAL GOODS.—The demand has kept up beyond all reasonable anticipations, and the stocks for all seasonable goods are very much broken, with an apparent certainty that very little machinery will be left to carry over to next season. Harvesters are almost entirely gone and threshers are likely to prove in short supply. The season, in respect to sales of farm machinery, has been unprecedented. Stocks of plows and other articles wanted for fall use are full enough, however, to meet all prospective demands. Figures are held firm.

DRY GOODS.—We have no changes in quotations, business for the week rather quiet.

HARDWARE.—Trade fair and prices firm or advancing. Nails of all descriptions are 25c higher and very firm. Cordage also has an advancing tendency.

GROCERIES.—There is an advance in syrups and salt. Trade was never better at this season of the year. A leading house informs us that their sales for the month will exceed half a million against four hundred and eighty thousand last year—very fair per cent. increase, considering the increase of houses to share the aggregate trade of the city.

LIQUORS AND TOBACCO.—Business in these lines has been rather quiet, though there has been some movement.

PRODUCE.—The market is still unsettled, and dealers are indisposed to risk any considerable transactions. Wheat is [illegible] however [illegible] Flour [illegible]

PROVISIONS.—There is an increased demand for bacon, and [illegible] are a little [illegible] without [illegible] summer [illegible] rather [illegible]

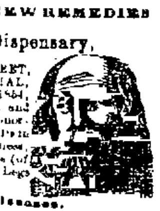
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Therefore be careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibilities resting upon them nor delay obtaining immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon stating age, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus [illegible] certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled [illegible], whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, [illegible], billiard-saloon keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will find their names [illegible]. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patents, letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

HOAGLAND'S NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,

Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been in use.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. Its construction is such as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs our ears [illegible]. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend it to all in all cases. We consider it far superior to the [illegible] Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

PROPOSALS,

For Furnishing and Delivering the Cut Stone required in the construction of the U. S. Custom-House, Post Office, &c., to be received at Portland, Oregon.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until M. of the eighth day of August, 1870, for furnishing and delivering at the site of building in Portland, Oregon, all of the cut stone work, including that above the water table, but excluding steps, required for the United States Custom House and Post Office, according to the drawings numbered 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, and the terms of this advertisement.

The stone required for the building must be of the best quality granite, limestone, sandstone, or other hard stone.

No stone will be considered that has not a [illegible] of uniform color, free from iron or other [illegible] staining substances, and capable of withstanding the action of the elements, and from quarries that have been fully tested by actual use in other buildings.

All of the stones must be of bright and uniform color, free from seams or cliffs, or any other defects, and sound in every particular. They must be cut full to the square and free out of wind, sharp and clean to the arrises, and of the dimensions required by the drawings.

If defects are screened or concealed by artificial means in the [illegible] such stones as are so [illegible] will be rejected, as will also all stone which has been defaced in [illegible] or during transportation by [illegible] or in any other manner.

Each bid must be accompanied by a sample block, [illegible] inch cube, showing on its sides various styles of cutting applicable to the quality of the stone, and the [illegible] in the proposition, and the work to be done must be fully equal to the sample of the material selected. Delivery will be made at such times and in such quantities as may be required.

The work must be as described herein, and in strict accordance with the drawings before referred to, and will include all work and material necessary for the finishing of the cut stone work ready to set.

The work must be done in strict accordance with the elevations and sections, and the bedding will be [illegible] the rough, to the satisfaction of the Superintendent, whether it be distinctly shown on the drawings or not. Lewis holes are not required to be drilled by the contractor, and such lewis holes as may drill for his [illegible] convenience will not be allowed for. The [illegible] trimming necessary to fit the ashlar [illegible] be charged to the contractor, as the work must be perfect, ready to set when delivered.

The ashlar will be back rebated into all [illegible] window dressings, as shown on the drawings. The entire job must be done to the satisfaction of the Superintendent and the approval of the Supervising Architect, or his agent.

Proposals must be made for the whole of the work, and all bids must be made on the printed form, and be accompanied by the bond of two responsible persons in the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars that the bidder will accept and perform the contract if awarded him. The bond to be approved by the United States District Judge or Clerk of the United States Court of the district in which the bidder resides.

The Department reserves the right to reject any or all bids, if it be deemed for the interest of the Government to do so, and any bid that does not conform in every respect to the requirements of this advertisement will not be considered. Plans may be seen and forms of proposals may be procured on application to this office.

Payments to be made monthly, upon delivery and acceptance of the stone, by the Superintendent, [illegible] ten per cent. until the final completion of the contract.

Proposals must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, endorsed "Proposals for Cut Stone Work for United States Post Office and Custom-House, Portland, Oregon," and will be addressed to
